A standard quillow is made with a single piece of quality quilting cotton or soft cotton flannel on the cushion and quilt fronts, with a poly/cotton backing and a fluffy 16oz batting in between. Batting is secured thoroughly around the edges and hand tied in the center. Other fabric, photo and batting options are considered upgrades and priced accordingly. As an alternative to a thick quilt, a blanket can be made without batting but with a thick fleece backing fabric, and also folds up into a pillow.
